HOW DO I AVOID OR MINIMISE FEES AND CHARGES?

AVOIDING DISHONOUR OR OVERDRAWN ACCOUNT FEES

Ensure that you have sufficient funds in your account to avoid dishonour/ overdrawn account fees.

If you use online payment systems to send money over the internet or issue a cheque, be aware that transactions may take more than one day to go through to your account. So you need to make sure that you have money in your account to cover the payment until the payment goes through.

Keep in mind the following when conducting online banking transfers:

- While online banking transfers between your accounts and other BankVic member accounts occur immediately, transfers to or from accounts at other financial institutions are subject to cut-off times.
- Any transactions conducted after 2pm on a banking business day (or on a Saturday, Sunday or public holiday) may not be processed until the following business day.

To avoid dishonoured cheques please ensure that you have sufficient funds in your account when writing cheques. When depositing cheques into your account please note the clearance time for cheques (unless you request special clearance).

As a customer owned bank, BankVic does not seek to drive profits from exception fees levied on members. Rather, these fees are charged to recoup costs incurred by members which are readily avoidable by members in the normal day-to-day operation of their accounts. If readily avoidable exception fees were not passed on, the cost of dealing with these transactions would necessarily be absorbed as a cost to all members. Therefore, passing on these fees and charges has the purpose of encouraging members not to incur these costs, thereby keeping the cost of banking services down for all members. BankVic does not charge for all activities for which costs are incurred, but rather for a small range most readily avoidable by members. In effect, it seeks in passing on these costs to the individual members who have incurred them and can easily avoid them, to facilitate the philosophy of "members helping members" which is at the core of a customer owned bank.

Exception fees are structured to take account of:

- the actual direct expenses associated with the faulty transaction (for example: administrative cost associated with producing and sending a letter etc);
 - costs that are a proportionate share of the overheads of BankVic in dealing with the transaction (for example: IT costs, premises costs required to support the personnel dealing with the default etc.);
 - costs incurred as a result of a third party service-provider arrangement (for example: an associated fee levied by an intermediary financial institution for dealing with the transaction).

FEES AND CHARGES

AVOIDING CREDIT CARD FEES

To avoid fees ensure that BankVic has received your total payment by the due date as outlined below.

Your first statement will be from the date you open your credit card account until the end of the statement period. The payment due dates are as follows:

- Visa Silver Card due date 1st of each month
- Visa Gold Card due date 10th of each month.

Your minimum monthly repayment is calculated at 2.5% of your closing balance, or $20, whichever is greater. You must also pay any past due or over limit amounts incurred.

You can avoid a late payment fee by making the required payment shown on your statement by the due date every month. BankVic must have received your payment by the due date. Where the due date falls on a non-banking business day (Saturday, Sunday or public holiday) your payment must be received on the preceding business day to ensure no late payment fees or interest charges will apply. Where payments are made by cash or cheque over the counter by the due date, no fees or interest charges will apply.

Interest is calculated daily and debited to the account monthly. Interest will be charged to the account after close of business at the end of the statement cycle (15th of the month), statements will then be generated.

No interest is charged on a purchase if you pay the closing balance on the statement by the due date and if you paid the closing balance on the previous statement by its due date.

Bill payments (quoting your credit card number) and retail purchase transactions are subject to interest free periods.

AVOIDING TRANSACTION FEES

From 1st December 2017, BankVic changed its charging of ATM withdrawal fees to benefit members. Please refer to your account type below to understand how these changes may impact you and how we have been able to expand the network of ATMs you can use and avoid paying fees.
